INTRODUCTION

IN a stock of China and Glassware, covering, we'll say, at least one hundred thousand pieces, it will be obvious that in this modest sized catalogue we can only show a few types. ¶ But these types are selected as being the most suitable for the majority of buyers—that is, they are beautiful in design and not too costly for the ordinary purse.

¶ So in glancing through the following pages the reader will notice a catholicity of choice and an admirable selection of both China and Glassware that will cause surprise and pleasure.

¶ May we emphasise this fact, that, as far as the disturbed commercial conditions permit, we can supply replicas of separate pieces broken, and again—generally speaking—the lines shown are always kept in stock.

¶ Our prices scarcely echo the times, for with a few notable exceptions, they are distinctly “pre-war,” and therefore very moderate.

¶ We are sure that a walk through our new Gallery would give you pleasure, even if you had no immediate intention to purchase anything.

PRICE LIST

to go with

Beard Watson's China and Glassware Catalogue

WE are not quite sure whether it is wise at such a time as this to print a price list, for, owing to war conditions, we truly cannot tell what a day may bring forth. Take the figures then as correct, but be prepared to hear that alterations have been made, almost "whilst you wait."

Again with regard to the stock—don't pin your faith to one pattern, although we keep very large stocks—but give us two or three selections, say first, second and third, and trust us to do our best for you.

By consideration of the very exceptional circumstances and a little forbearance on your part, we feel that we can still give you a service which, if restricted, is at least genuine and straightforward.

Respectfully,

BEARD WATSON, Ltd.
